Vice Chancellor for Enrollment Management and Student Affairs

Students are encouraged to visit the Office of the Vice Chancellor for Enrollment Management and Student Affairs (VCEMSA) regarding any questions concerning University policies and procedures, discrimination/harassment by any University employee, or general questions concerning student life on campus.

The Office of Vice Chancellor for Enrollment Management and Student Affairs is responsible for coordinating all non-academic services which are designed to recruit and enroll students in a supportive campus environment in which students are able to develop and succeed — academically, intellectually and personally.

The Division of Enrollment Management and Student Affairs assists with creating a student-centered environment designed for student success through services and programs administered outside of and in conjunction with academic programs. The staff, faculty and the student leaders with whom they partner are committed to a team approach to creating this supportive environment that is the hallmark of a Purdue University Northwest.

Academic Honors (Academic Standing)

Academic Regulations (Academic Standing)

Good Standing

For purposes of reports and communications to other institutions and agencies and in the absence of any further qualification of the term, a student shall be considered in good standing unless he or she has been dismissed, suspended, or academically separated from the University and has not been readmitted.

Academic Recognition

At the conclusion of each fall or spring semester (but not any summer session), the registrar indicates which students are eligible for the following academic recognitions:

Semester Honors List

- have at least six credit hours included in the semester GPA
- attain at least a 3.5 semester GPA
- have at least a 2.0 overall GPA

Students whose names are placed on the Dean's List shall be entitled to the following special privileges during the semester following the designation of distinction:

- may be assigned to more than 18 credit hours upon request
- with the instructor's permission, a full-time Dean's List student may audit one class without assessment or additional fee

It would be possible to earn both Dean's List and Semester Honors standing if the student has a really outstanding semester.

Pass/no-pass grades and credits do not count in hours totals for either category of honors.

Dean's List

The Dean's List is Purdue University Northwest's way of recognizing undergraduate students for outstanding scholastic achievement. At the conclusion of each semester, the registrar shall indicate which undergraduate students are scholastically eligible to be included on the Dean's List. To be cited on the Dean's List for any semester, one must:

- have at least 12 hours included in the cumulative GPA

- have at least 6 hours included in the semester GPA
- attain at least a 3.5 cumulative GPA
- have at least a 3.0 current semester GPA

Honors College

Students certified by the Honors College as having completed the requirements of the Honors College receive an appropriate notation on their academic record upon completion of their degree.

Academic Integrity Policy

- Academic Integrity Policy

Academic Notice, Separation and Readmission

Academic Regulations (Academic Standing)

Academic Notice

- A student at Purdue University Northwest shall be placed on academic notice if the student's fall or spring semester or overall or cumulative GPA at the end of any fall or spring semester is less than a 2.0.
- A student on academic notice shall be removed from that standing at the end of the first subsequent fall or spring semester in which the student achieves semester and overall GPAs equal to or greater than 2.0.
- Any grade change due to a reporting error will result in a recalculation of the GPA and determination of notice standing.
- Academic standing will not be assessed in summer sessions.

Students Separated from the University Due to Academics

- A student on academic notice shall be dropped from the University at the close of any fall or spring semester in which the student's semester and overall GPA is less than a 2.0.
- Any grade change due to a reporting error will result in a recalculation of the GPA and determination of academic separation.

Readmission

- A student who is academically separated from Purdue University Northwest or any other campus of Purdue University for academic reasons for the first time is not eligible to enroll for at least one fall or spring semester. A student who is academically separated from the University for a second time for academic reasons is not eligible to enroll for at least one year.
- A student separated by this rule must apply to the appropriate office or readmission committee for the Purdue campus of choice. A fee is assessed for processing the readmission application. Readmission is not guaranteed, but any student who gains readmission is readmitted on academic notice and is subject to stipulations in effect as a condition of readmission. (For more detailed information about readmission, please contact the Undergraduate Admissions office at admissions@pnw.edu or call the Office of Undergraduate Admissions at (219) 989-2213 or toll free at (855) 608-4600.

Attendance

Academic Regulations (Class Attendance)

The resources of Purdue University Northwest are provided for the intellectual development of its students. Courses with defined schedules are provided to facilitate an orderly and predictable environment for learning, as well as to provide assurance of a registered student's right to access the course. Scheduled courses allow students to avoid conflicts and reflect the University's expectation that students should be present for every meeting of a class/laboratory for which they are registered. Faculty are responsible for organizing and delivering a course of instruction and for certifying student accomplishment on the basis of performance. Coursework is defined as the assessment(s) used by the instructor to determine the student's grade, as outlined in the course syllabus.

The University recognizes that the learning mission can be enhanced significantly by co-curricular experiences. Students participating in University-sponsored activities should be permitted to make up class work missed as a result of this participation. Ultimately students are responsible for all required coursework and bear full responsibility for any academic consequences that may result due to absence.

Additionally, the University recognizes that in some circumstances, absence from class is unavoidable or is necessary to fulfill a required obligation. As such, the University has established the following as reasons to be granted an excused absence from class:

- Grief/Bereavement Leave
- Military Leave
- Jury Duty Leave
- Parenting Leave
- Medical Excuse

Procedures and remedies for granting these absences are specified in the sections below. The student bears the responsibility of informing the instructor prior to the absence(s), if possible. The instructor bears the responsibility to accommodate the student either by excusing the student or allowing the student to make up work.

Filing Complaints Outside of Purdue University Northwest

If you believe your complaint has not been properly addressed within Purdue University Northwest, you can enter your complaint with other organizations at the state and national levels.

The Indiana Commission for Higher Education authorizes Purdue University Northwest to offer undergraduate and graduate certificates, baccalaureate and master's degrees.

You may submit a complaint at the ICHE website.

Purdue University Northwest is accredited by the Higher Learning Commission. Information regarding the complaint process can be found at the Higher Learning Commission website.

Students in distance learning programs can also submit a complaint to the state where they are residing as they taking the course(s).

Complaints of Discrimination and Harassment

Any employee, student, campus visitor, or person participating in a university activity, whether on or off campus, who believes they have experienced or witnessed discrimination and/or harassment is encouraged to report the incident(s) promptly to the Office for Civil Rights (civilrights@pnw.edu) or to the Office of the Dean of Students (dos@pnw.edu) if the Respondent involves a student.

Final Exams

Academic Regulations (Academic Calendar/Final Examinations)

1. In regular semesters, the final examination period shall consist of six scheduled days comprising the last week of the semester. The two-hour class meetings during the six days of the final examination period will be scheduled. Upon instructor request, a single course-wide examination for the instructor's divisions will be scheduled for any course.
2. Each class will be scheduled for a two-hour meeting during the final examination period. Excepted are those courses classified as individual study, clinic, student teaching, industrial experience (co-op), or research and those offered for zero credit. If no educational purpose will be served by any type of meeting during finals week (last three days in summer session) because the educational objectives of the course have been achieved, an instructor may dismiss this class meeting.
3. No student shall be required to take more than two examinations on one day. Students scheduled for more than two examinations in one calendar day are entitled to reschedule any examinations in excess of two. Similarly, students faced with a direct exam conflict are entitled to reschedule either examination. It is the responsibility of the student to make the necessary arrangements before the last week of regularly scheduled classes. Course instructors shall not penalize a student who chooses to reschedule an examination under these options. If the student and the instructors cannot come to an agreement the Dean of Students office shall arbitrate a solution.

4. If a student has two consecutive exams (less than two hours between the end of the first exam and the start of the second exam) with either exam on the Hammond campus and the other exam on the Westville campus, they must be allowed to take either one of the exams at the testing center so they do not have to travel between exams or (if the instructor chooses) reschedule one of the exams to allow a sufficient and safe travel time plus 15 minutes break time between exams. If the student and the instructors cannot come to an agreement the Dean of Students office shall arbitrate a solution.
5. The final examination period is intended for the end-of-semester examination. No examination may be given during the week (three days in summer session) preceding the final examination period of the semester. Exceptions to this rule include: short quizzes (which cover one to two weeks of material) and examinations for laboratory, intensive, or minicourses. It will be the responsibility of the department chair or, where appropriate, the school director to ensure that none of the departmental or school faculty use the week (three days in summer session) preceding the final examination period to administer an examination.
6. Comprehensive final examinations (examinations for laboratory, intensive or minicourses excluded) are prohibited except during the regular final examination periods of the last week of the semester.
